

Infant Schedule

Lil Scholar's philosophy is that infants should be on their own schedule. When they are tired they will sleep, when they are hungry they will eat, when they are dirty we will change them and when they are awake we will place and interact with them. The infant room has a very flexible routine, because each child's schedule is so different at each various age. We will foster your baby's awareness and natural curiosity about the world around them. We will provide daily activities that will include singing, reading and a variety of experiences to stimulate their senses. When weather permits, we will take the infant outside. You will see our staff on the floor interacting with your infant throughout the entire day.
